Bodies of Four From Sailboat Found in Sound

Three Died Wearing Lifebelts; Cause of Disaster Still Unknown

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 20 (AP).—Four bodies of persons who were among seven aboard a sailboat which vanished Sunday night were recovered today in northern Puget Sound waters.

They were identified shortly after being found by searchers aboard U.S. Coast Guard and private boats which had been attempting to find the 35-foot sailing sloop Prelude.

There was no indication of the cause of the disaster. The boat had not been seen since 7 p.m. Sunday night when it began a return cruise from Orcas Island to Bellingham, a two-hour run. Only a moderate wind was blowing at the time.

The seven aboard the yacht were Paul Fordyce, the owner, and his wife and son, Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. Don Card; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jukes, all of Bellingham.

The bodies found were identified as Jukes, Mrs. Card, Mrs. Fordyce and her son. All but Jukes were wearing lifejackets. Two seat cushions, a mattress and a lifeboat paddle were located on beaches of the area.

The Coast Guard was unable to confirm a report that the wreckage of the Prelude had been sighted. A widespread search was continuing.

Victoria Men Returning From Korea

Two Victoria men will be among Canadian troops returning from Korea, and due in Seattle at 7.30 a.m. Thursday.

Aboard the U.S. Navy troopship General Simon B. Buckner, will be Lieut. W. H. Coull, 2310 Lee Avenue, and L.-Cpl. Fredrick W. Bennallack, 531 Constance Avenue.

The troopship is carrying 37 officers and 911 men, but only 26 from B.C.

Lieut. Coull and L.-Cpl. Bennallack comprise the Vancouver Island contingent.

The men will go to Vancouver by bus and train, and are due to arrive in Building 47, North Jericho, at 6.30 p.m.

Long Slaying Confession Admited in Murder Trial

WINNIPEG, May 20 (CP).—A statement telling how a seven-year-old child was beaten and strangled to death when she failed to kneel in prayer with her parents was admitted today as evidence in the murder trial of the father, Gavin McCullough, 52.

Detective-Inspector George Blow said McCullough made the statement after police accidentally discovered the slaying while investigating reports that the parents had been praying in a frigid vacant lot in their night clothes last January 25. The body of the child, Martha Louise, was found in an upstairs bedroom of the McCulloughs' home.

McCullough's trial opened today before Mr. Justice J. T. Beaubien and a summer Assizes jury. Court records showed that four years ago McCullough himself was a juryman at a murder trial which ended in the conviction of a Winnipeg man.

Originally, Mrs. Lillian McCullough, 52, was also charged with murder, but was later declared insane and committed to a mental hospital.

In McCullough's statement, he told how the child had entered the bedroom after he and his wife had been praying spasmodically all night while expecting a miracle.

POWER OF DEVIL

"Martha Louise was crying and was under the power of the devil," the statement said. "Lillian threatened to kill her now and started banging her head on the floor.

"Then she grabbed the bottle (a squat cleaning fluid bottle) and hit her over the head with it several times. Then she called on me to help her because she did not have strength enough."

"I took the bottle and hit her (Martha Louise) several times but even then she was still breathing.

"Then I took my two hands and choked her and knelt on her chest and finally stopped her breathing."

The statement also told how the couple had attended faith healing meetings conducted here by Rev. A. C. Valdez of Phoenix, Ariz., how they had gone through the healing line "not that there was anything wrong with me, but I wanted to witness the healing."

Island Home Of Producer Stripped Bare

Some words never heard in a movie travelogue may be used to describe the "natives" when J. A. FitzPatrick, famous Hollywood producer of colorful travel films, visits his island home near Sidney.

Visitors to the tiny, beautiful isle nestled in the blue waters of the Inside Passage, have gutted the house and disappeared into the sunset lugging bathtubs, doors, windows and lighting fixtures.

Even the kitchen sink is gone. Trespassers provided enough color for a three-reel movie by chopping up all the kitchen cupboards and burning them in the kitchen stove.

The travelogue producer took his own advice about three years ago, and on a visit through the Islands, acquired Hill Island, where he built the house. There was no caretaker.

New Equipment Passes Test

Victoria Fire Department had the latest addition to its firefighting equipment at the Inner Harbor docks of the C.P.R. yesterday morning for a thorough testing. The pump-hose combination sent a stream of water far into the harbor and from all accounts was satisfactory in every respect. Taking part or watching the test, left to right: Ald. Waldo Skillings, Saanich Fire Chief J. Law, Oak Bay Fire Chief E. Clayards, Edward Sundstrom, here from the Kenworth engineering firm of Seattle, which provided the chassis of the new pump, and G. Matthews, chief mechanic of the Victoria Fire Department.

Home-Made Fire Engine Passes Tests

Victoria's made-at-home fire engine went into trial action yesterday and justified the faith of retired fire chief Robert Brindle who asked for the truck when he was head of the department.

Body and fittings of the $34,000 pump truck were built at Garbally workshops here on a chassis bought in Seattle.

The plan saved an estimated $5,000 for the city.

Ex-chief Brindle termed the truck's performance "as good as a job turned out at the factory."

The 1,000-gallon-a-minute performance was continued for three hours with pressures from 150 pounds to 250, as D. J. Ford, B.C. Fire Underwriters' Association representative, watched the demonstration at the C.P.R. docks.

The new firefighting unit, operated for the first time yesterday, was built for the most part by mechanics and others of the city department. Fire department officials claim the project has resulted in a saving of several thousand dollars for the city. Here a group of city firemen are seen with the "working end" of the fire hose used during yesterday's test.—(Colonist photos by Bud Kinsman.)

Fraser Near Flood Level At Mission

MISSION, B.C., May 20 (CP).—The Fraser River registered at 16.98 feet today on the official gauge at this Fraser Valley community. Minimum flood level—not considered dangerous—is 18 feet.

For the last four days the water has gone up more than a foot a day. Saturday, the reading was 13.04 feet, Sunday 14.39 feet and Monday 15.74 feet.

Although there have been no forecasts of serious flooding this year, Fraser Valley folk remember the disaster of 1948. They are following the river readings closely.

Apple Imports Held Unlikely

LONDON, May 20 (Reuters).—Britain probably will not import any more apples this year from dollar-currency countries, the House of Commons was told today.

Anacortes Ferry To Start Friday

Ferry service between Sidney and Anacortes, long delayed by need of wharf repairs at Sidney, will be resumed Friday.

B. Blaney, manager of Capital Travel Service, local agents for Washington State Ferries, said yesterday that although repairs to the Sidney docks are not yet completed, the ferry, Klickitat will start the following schedule Friday: Leave Sidney 12.40 p.m., arrive Anacortes 4.40 p.m.; leave Anacortes 8.30 a.m., arrive Sidney 12.15 p.m. All times listed are standard, Mr. Blaney stressed.

On June 14 the service will be augmented by a second ferry, the Nisqually, on a schedule to be announced shortly. Until wharf repairs are completed, possibly in another 10 days, the Klickitat will be able to handle only cars and motorcycles.

Later it will be possible to accommodate larger vehicles.

Resumption of the Sidney-Anacortes service was welcomed by chambers of commerce of all lower Vancouver Island.

Enraged Cow Attacks Child

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP).—An enraged cow—head down and hoofs flailing—attacked two-year-old Terry McDonald today while the tot was playing in the field where the animal was tethered.

But thanks to two police officers who happened to be passing by, Terry received only scratches. His six-year-old brother, Bobby, also playing in the field, was unharmed.

Natal May Secede Spokesman Warns

State To Quit South Africa If Malan Wins, Senator Says

CAPETOWN, May 20 (CP).—A high-ranking opposition leader warned today that Natal will quit the Union of South Africa if the Nationalist government "tears up" the constitution to steamroller its race segregation laws through parliament.

G. Heaton Nicholls, leader of the opposition United Party in the Senate, spoke out against a government bill which would make the Nationalist-dominated parliament a court unto itself to decide whether its legislation is constitutional.

The bill has already been endorsed by the lower house. It was introduced by the government of Prime Minister Daniel Malan after its law restricting the voting rights of Cape colored persons (those of mixed blood) was thrown out as unconstitutional by the Appeals Court.

Nicholls told a hushed Senate that the new government bill creating a high court of parliament "will make a coup d'etat unnecessary." Elections, he said, could be dispensed with and a dictatorship could be established by passing an enabling act giving the government complete authority.

"If you strip the legal framework of the South Africa Act (the constitution) of all its flesh and blood, so that only the dry bones remain, then the constitution is dead no matter how you prop it up with legal wires," he said.

The senator is regarded as a chief spokesman for Natal, the mainly English-speaking eastern seaboard province.

Justice Minister Charles Swart today ordered the resignation from office of three more European trade union leaders.

Under the Suppression of Communism Act, Swart Monday ordered the resignation of Solomon Sachs, general secretary of the Garment Workers' Union.

The three leaders named today were: Israel Wolfson, secretary of the Tailoring Workers' Industrial Union; Ronald Fleet, secretary of the Hairdressers Employees Industrial Union, and Daniel Johannes Du Plessis, vice-president of the Union of Laundering, Cleaning and Dyeing Workers.

Swart has named all four as Communists. Under the act Communists may be removed from any organization.

House Unseats M.P.

CAPETOWN, May 20 (CP)—The House of Assembly today unseated as a Communist Sam Kahn, who represents Africans in the Cape Western area.

The vote which unseated him came after a two-day debate. It also removed as a Communist Fred Carneson, member of the Cape Provincial Council. Carneson's constituents also are Africans.

Both men were voted out by 77 to 55 as Communists under the authority of the Suppression of Communism Act.

In an 80-minute speech Kahn challenged Justice Minister C. R. Swart to prosecute him or Carneson before a court of law for anything they had said or done since the act was passed.

In his speech Kahn said his crime was the "heinous" one of believing in equal rights for whites and blacks but he asserted this belief was not the monopoly of Communism.

Two Young Fallers Killed As Tree Glances Off Snag

LAKE COWICHAN, May 20 (CP).—Two loggers working as partners on a power saw were killed today when the towering tree they were cutting glanced off a jagged snag as it crashed to the ground.

Crushed under the tree when the direction of its fall was changed by the collision was James Phillips, 21. He died instantly.

At the same time the snag, snapped by the impact, took a whiplash blow at Louis Quellett, 24. He died as he was being taken to hospital in an ambulance.

The accident occurred just after the men had eaten lunch and returned to the job on the Reliable Logging Company operation about 15 miles from here and 60 miles northwest of Victoria.

An inquest opened before Coroner J. H. Boyd and was adjourned until May 27. Both married and the fathers of young children, the loggers had lived at Lake Cowichan for some time.

Quellett and Phillips, employed as fallers were working with a crew of six. The other men escaped injury as the tree and snag crashed down.

Supplies Theft Discovered At Churchill

WINNIPEG, May 20 (CP).—Discovery of a cache of loot from the Canadian army base at Churchill, Man., will result in charges of theft against a civilian employee of the National Defense Department, headquarters of Prairie Command announced today.

Officials said the charges would be laid by the camp commandant, Col. H. A. Millen.

They said the theft involves nine kegs of nails, cement, spotlights, building paper, rolls of wire and green tile, all the property of civilian contracting firms.

Also uncovered in the investigation, carried out by the R.C.M.P. at Churchill, was some army equipment—two $1,800 wireless sets and 4,000 rounds of ammunition and spare parts for a Penguin snowmobile, including four wheels and tires.

Unions Battle Over Status At Kemano Job

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP).—A jurisdictional battle over union work at the Aluminum Company of Canada project at Kemano, B.C., came to a head here today when one union started picketing an employer's office.

Involved in the dispute is Local 692, International Association of Machinists (A.F.L., T.L.C.), which put a two-man picket line outside Morrison-Knudsen office here and Local 115, International Union of Operating Engineers (A.F.L.).

The machinists said that they have been trying for the last year to sign an agreement with the construction firm over certain jobs being done in connection with work at Kemano.

The operating engineers, who have a contract from June, 1951, to the end of 1952, said that the machinists were "trying to horn in" on Kemano work.

"The work in question is outside the scope of the machinists' union," a spokesman for the engineers said.

A Morrison-Knudsen spokesman said the dispute must be settled by the unions.

About 500 workers are covered under the engineers' contract at Kemano. The jobs of eight men are in dispute.

Fire Threat To Shipyard

HALIFAX, May 21 (Wednesday) (CP).—Fire broke out today aboard the coastal freighter Brigadier-General Absolom Beard, undergoing repairs, and officials feared for the safety of the marine slips at the Dartmouth shipyards.

The coastal freighter is tied up at the shipyards.

The Dartmouth fire department has equipment at the scene and Halifax harbor fireboats may move in to aid the firemen.

At last reports the Absolom Beard was burning fiercely.

Train Derails At Colwood

A C.N.R. freight locomotive and several freight cars were derailed at Colwood corner early this morning.

The train remained nearly upright as it plowed across the asphalt road surface. No one was injured according to R.C.M.P.

Spring Fever Spurs New College Raids

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP).—Spring madness swept another batch of college campuses last night, turning thousands of feverish young men into brawling raiders.

Nearly a dozen schools witnessed riots or near riots as the males stormed co-ed dormitories in search of souvenirs. It was the biggest outbreak yet in the snowballing, week-old fad.

It was good clean fun in some spots. But not in Columbia, Mo., where soldiers were called out to cope with rioting University of Missouri students. And not at Colorado University where one youth broke his hip.

The raids, weirdest collegiate fad since the goldfish swallowing 1930's, have been blamed by psychiatrists on everything from sex to simple-mindedness.

Some 3,000 Missouri students went wild on their own campus and then raided two nearby girls' schools, Stephens and Christian Colleges.

Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, University of Missouri president, said the student riot "can not be excused or condoned."

"Disciplinary measures will be taken in cases of established responsibility," he said.

Big Boom Appears Basic Issue in B.C. Electioneering

(This is the first in a series of six articles by the Colonist's legislative reporter. The series will explore the platforms of the four major parties in the coming provincial election. A final article will present a consensus of opinions of officials and candidates of all parties as to their election chances.)

BY T. A. MYERS

It's election-time in B.C., a peculiar season of hoopla, rah-rah and a lot of blah-blah.

From a thousand public platforms across the province, 200-odd candidates are shouting that "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of my party."

These would-be legislators are filling the air with a fog of words that obscures the issues involved.

This business of clouding the issues happens in every election campaign, but usually it isn't too serious. Normally the voter can ignore the politicians' prattle and base his opinion simply on the recent performances of the various parties.

In B.C. today, that can't be done.

For one thing, B.C.'s last government wasn't a party government but a coalition. Now the two coalition parties—Liberals and Conservatives—are appealing for votes on their individual merits.

After 11 years of coalition, the voter today must decide for himself if either of these parties rates his support.

The third party in the race is the C.C.F. This is one party that hasn't changed much in recent years. It still stands for socialization and a planned economy.

The dark horse is the new Social Credit movement, which is making its first bid for power in B.C. There's a good deal of confusion about just what Social Credit stands for and many a new Social Crediter can't tell you.

Conservatives consider themselves the staunch bulwark of the free-enterprise system. They stand for all-out development of the province's natural resources, with the view of making B.C. a vast industrial plant.

They want to put the brake on welfare services; not permanently, perhaps, but at least until the province is better able to pay for them.

Liberals too are stout defenders of private enterprise, but they also recognize a duty to the aged, the infirm and the assorted casualties of this industrial age. They foster new industries feeding on the province's resources, and they set up a wide variety of health and welfare services to aid the underprivileged.

C.C.F'ers complain that the Liberals move too slowly in their reforms. The socialists would take over major industries for the people and slap heavier taxes on other industries to pay B.C.'s welfare bill.

Just where Social Credit stands in this political spectrum is a puzzle, although Socreds claim their party is farther to the right than the Tories.

Social Crediters promise "good, clean government," lower taxes and decentralization of government power. They offer an ultra-conservative financial policy with steady debt reduction and pay-as-you-go improvement. Their funny-money theories are being kept in the background.

Probably the main issue of this election is B.C.'s Big Boom.

Liberals look on the boom with the proud and protective eyes of a loving father. They want to see it grow up (under a Liberal government, of course) to become the biggest boom in the world.

Conservatives appeal to the court of public opinion to turn the boom over to their custody. They think they can do a better job of raising the child than the Liberals.

Liberals and Conservatives unite in protecting the boom from the C.C.F., which they suspect of having murderous intentions. They say the nasty old socialist bogey-man would smother the baby in its cradle, by cutting off the flow of outside capital.

This kind of talk draws exasperated snorts from the socialists. They reply that B.C. is just too lush a field for capitalists to keep out of. The C.C.F.'ers also want the boom to grow and grow, but they want to put it to work for all of society.

Social Crediters want to take over the boom and mold it into a likeness of Alberta's oil boom. They say that in their hands the boom can bring never-ending prosperity for British Columbians, along with lower taxes and more freedom.

Hospital insurance is another subject that makes all the candidates break out in a rash of promises.

The Liberals—all except Premier Johnson—promise to abolish co-insurance. The Tories promise to make hospital insurance non-compulsory and competitive. The C.C.F. offers to remove co-insurance and cut premiums. The Social Crediters would make hospital insurance voluntary and provide free treatment for more diseases.

Other matters like forest management, labor relations, the P.G.E., farm problems, education, and power development are all live issues in this campaign.

But the real differences among the parties can be found in their respective attitudes toward the Big Boom.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

A Canadian senator campaigning for tighter censorship of "salacious and indecent" books came up with the following remarkable statement this week:

"You can't send anyone a book as a gift with any assurance that you're not going to insult them. I don't care what adults read, but I have nine children, and they have children of their own."

I am rather ill-informed about the patriarchial system among Canadian senators. Among non-senators it is usually assumed that once a child has a child of his own, he has grown up.

But senators are a special group, and they probably have their own tribal customs and folk-ways. One such custom may be to interfere with the reading habits of their families unto the third and fourth generation.

They can do that, and gladly, as long as they keep their fingers out of other people's bookshelves.

* * *

Rather than being a clue to a colorful and interesting old senatorial tradition, however, I'm afraid that the senator's utterance was a slip of the tongue revealing his attitude toward the people in general.

"I don't care what an adult reads, but I have nine children, and they have children of their own."

The senator obviously regards every Canadian younger than himself as a child. And since no one under the rank of grandfather is even considered for appointment for the senate, no matter how well qualified he may be in the political sense, the senator must regard 80 per cent of us as children.

The senator's attitude is not confined to the senate. It is also a common attitude among busybodies and so-called reformers.

* * *

According to Gerald Waring's despatch from Ottawa, the customs department's hitherto secret censorship of books and periodicals entering Canada has now been laid open—but only after the list was carefully combed out to let through books and periodicals which never should have been banned in the first place.

It took two years to remove those books and periodicals from the list. They were removed because of fear of public ridicule and anger. Now the good senator wants more and more books shut out by customs decree.

The people have been treated like children throughout this affair. Books have long been censored by civil servants with little or no qualifications for such work. The people have not been told what these officials were doing, or why.

Now that there is a possibility of being treated like adults, some senator wants to put us back in the nursery.

We in British Columbia have been treated like children for many years in the matter of drinking. The heavy-father government has long denied us the right to enjoy a temperate glass of wine with a meal, and has forced us to choose between the bottle and the beer-cell.

Well, kiddies, we have grown up now.

Dr. W. Harry Hickman Named As Victoria College Principal

Dr. W. Harry Hickman has been appointed principal of Victoria College after serving as acting principal of the institution since the death of Dr. J. M. Ewing.

At 43 he is the youngest principal in the 50-year history of the college. His appointment dates from May 1, on recommendation of the Victoria College Council.

The appointment was announced at the Greater Victoria School Board meeting.

The new principal was winner of the governor-general's gold medal for heading the University of British Columbia class of 1930 for a B.A. degree.

He received his M.A. at U.B.C. and D. Litt. at the University of Paris, and has been at the college since 1939.

P.T.A. PROTEST

A six-man delegation from Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council told the school board meeting that janitorial services were driving P.T.A.'s out of existence.

Many money-raising events were being curtailed because of the charges for service, delegation spokesmen said, and $14,000, of which $4,000 was for janitor fees, were turned in to the schools each year by the associations.

Trustee Ken Leeming suggested each group strike a committee to seek "a middle-of-the-road solution."

"We don't feel we get $4,000 worth of value—that is the crux of the matter," B. C. Gillie, principal of S. J. Willis Junior High School, told the meeting.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS

One principal and 16 teachers were appointed for Sept. 1 at the meeting.

William D. Reid was named vice-principal of Esquimalt High School, and secondary teachers appointed were Joan K. Creighton, Gerald T. Horne and Gordon B. King.

Elementary school teachers were Catherine M. Kennedy, Lois A. Jensen, Margaret R. Yeatman, Rigmor M. Hornbeck, Helen M. Heintzman, Ella R. De Paon, Mrs. Maude Lendrum, William H. Russell, Mrs. Eleanor M. Palmer, William K. Hardy, Derek V. Morris, Sidney J. Chapman and Dolores E. Ward.

Woman Army Doctors

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The U.S. House of Representatives passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate a bill to let the Army, Navy and Air Force commission women as doctors, dentists, veterinarians and osteopaths.

Advance Polls June 5, 6, 7 To Be Held Throughout B.C.

Advance polls will be conducted throughout the province on June 5, 6 and 7, chief electoral officer Fred Hurley announced yesterday.

Voting in the advance poll will be done in Victoria for the electoral districts of Esquimalt, Oak Bay, Saanich and Victoria City, he said.

There will be two classes of advance poll voters, those who vote at the advance poll in their own district or at a group headquarters, and those who vote at any advance poll outside their own district.

Complete instructions on the advance polls have been sent to returning officers and registrars of voters, he said.

Former Students at College Sought To Contribute to Fund for Library

Names and addresses of former Victoria College students will be sought by a special committee as part of a plan to have old grads finance sections of the new library in the John M. Ewing Building.

An attempt will be made to gather lists dating back to the first class of 1902-03 in a commemoration of the college's founding and its golden jubilee.

[illegible] to proceed with the project was made this week. Graduates will be given an opportunity to honor former teachers by designating the name they wish to honor in donations.

A minimum objective of $5,000 was set to be collected by mail and personal canvass early in September.

As many ex-students as possible will be reached, and a committee under the chairmanship of Miss Dorothy Cruikshank will comb old records for names and addresses.

It is hoped students in the 1903 to 1915 classes will help by phoning their names and addresses and those of former classmates to Miss Cruikshank at B 4931.

Parents of ex-students who are out of town are also urged to phone in present addresses.

Red Prisoner Killed In New Korea Riot

PUSAN, Korea, May 21 (Wednesday) (AP).—United States soldier-guards stamped out a rebellion Tuesday in a big Pusan prison camp, killing one Communist prisoner and injuring 85 in a battle lasting nearly three hours.

It was the first bloody prisoner uprising on the Korean mainland. It came as the U.S. Eighth Army disclosed that two minor revolts were squelched without bloodshed on nearby Koje Island last week.

Koje is the main prison camp for hard-core Communists. They staged two riots and kidnapped the camp commander recently.

The Pusan fighting broke out at a prison hospital enclosure where both Communist and anti-Communist prisoners are treated.

The army said a small group of fanatical Reds who served as hospital attendants defied orders to leave the compound for transfer elsewhere.

Combat-seasoned U.S. infantrymen went into the compound to get them, and the fighting started. No shots were fired; it was a battle of clubs and fists.

One soldier was injured slightly. About half of the 85 prisoners injured received only minor hurts, the army said. It did not say how the one prisoner died.

For two and a half hours the fighting swirled across the compound. The soldiers used riot tactics in rounding up the prisoners.

New Diocese At Lakehead

OTTAWA, May 20 (BUP).—Most Reverend Hildebrand Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Canada announced today that His Holiness Pope Pius XII has established a new Roman Catholic diocese in Canada, whose episcopal see will be in Fort William, Ontario.

The first Bishop of Fort William is Most Reverend Edward Quinton Jennings, who has been Bishop of Kamloops, British Columbia.

The new diocese comprises all the parishes and missions of the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, west of the 86th parallel and all the parishes and missions within that area of the province of Ontario which hitherto pertained to the archdiocese of St. Boniface, Manitoba.

The diocese of Fort William has 32,000 Catholics, 50 priests and several institutions conducted by about 150 religious sisters.

Oddities

LITTLETON, N.H., May 20 (AP).—The potato shortage is changing menus in this town, heart of a Connecticut Valley spud-raising area. Nick Perkins, proprietor of the White Mountain restaurant, today posted a big window sign which read: "Special Today, Baked Potato, $1.39." Nick tossed the rest of the dinner in "free."

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 20 (AP).—There it was on the complaint—a hit-and-run pedestrian.

Eugene Burton, 21, told police that he was waiting to get into a garage and his car momentarily blocked the sidewalk.

A pedestrian trying to get past smashed his fist through the car's ventilator window, kicked a dent in the door, knocked the chrome from the front fender, reached down and bent the license plate—then fled.

Defense, Recruiting Fine, Legion Told by Claxton

MONTREAL, May 20 (CP).—Defense Minister Claxton told the Canadian Legion today Canada will be adequately protected by 1954 and, he implied, she can and will do it without conscription.

With the Legion's national convention heading toward debate on a conscription resolution, the minister stepped in to say people involved in the defense effort and their dependents already comprise more than one-tenth the population and that there aren't enough barracks to absorb many more troops.

The three-year military program will finish on schedule by 1954, he predicted—with, he said, his fingers crossed. The army's hitting power had nearly quadrupled since Korea. The air force had boosted fighter strength 50 per cent. The navy was forging ahead steadily. And no western capital thinks there is going to be war in the near future.

An estimated 65,000 qualified, healthy Canadians come of military age annually, said the minister. Last year the forces recruited 39,000 new men—"a very good average" of available manpower. In addition, he said, Canada was training per capita more than some countries with conscription.

What effect those arguments will have on the Legion's views about a far-ranging conscription resolution will emerge Wednesday or Thursday. Chances are the convention will reaffirm the 1950 compulsory-training stand although there is some opposition to it among the Quebec delegates who went into secret caucus late today to discuss their stand.

Meanwhile, a new resolution was added to those expressing disquiet over the defense picture. This one said the reserve forces aren't doing what they are meant to do and that their published strengths don't reflect the relatively small numbers actually in training. It urged appointment of a royal commission to study the whole set-up.

Western World On Right Track Truman Holds

WEST POINT, N.Y., May 20 (AP).—President Truman said today Korea has put the free world on the right track "to preserving our freedom without paying the frightful cost of world war."

"I believe we are well on the way . . . ." he said with sober but unmistakable optimism. "We are on the right track." He held out hope there may still be an armistice in Korea but insisted "we must also be alert and ready to meet treachery or a renewal of aggression if that should come."

Truman spoke at the United States Military Academy's 150th anniversary celebration. He told West Point cadets that "as a result of Korea, the free countries are infinitely better prepared to defend themselves than they were two years ago."

But he tempered his optimism at points and, in words as grim as the grey, dripping sky above this Hudson River redoubt, told the cadets:

"But I don't want anyone to get the impression that there is any basis for relaxing or letting up . . . no one should assume that the responsibility of world war has become remote."

In his prepared speech, Truman added:

"The forces of the Soviet empire are large, well-trained, and equipped with modern weapons, including the atom bomb. The Kremlin's desire to dominate the world is obviously unchanged."

He struck out from the text, however, the reference to Russia's possession of the atom bomb. There was no explanation.

No Morticians At All in U.K.

BOURNEMOUTH, England, May 20 (AP).—The men who bury Britain's dead urged people today to stop calling them undertakers.

Robert A. Ebbutt, president of the National Association of Funeral Directors, told their annual meeting.

"Dustmen and ratcatchers have changed themselves [illegible] rodent operatives, possibly in order to disguise the true nature of their calling. This is all part of the modern trend of pomposity.

"But we have changed undertaker to funeral director to make clear what job we are doing. Undertaker means nothing."

Newsprint Cost Up To U.S. Buyers

TORONTO, May 20 (CP).—Canadian newsprint today headed toward a $10-a-ton increase in price to all but Canadian users.

Three big producers, Abitibi Power and Paper Co. Ltd., Consolidated Paper Corp. Ltd., and Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills Ltd. advised their export customers, chiefly in the United States, that the $10 jump will go into effect June 15.

If followed by other companies, this will bring the price at New York to $126 a ton. The Canadian [illegible] will remain at $112, plus a 10-per-cent sales tax, which leaves the cost to Canadian users at around $122.

Abitibi, in advising its American customers of the increase, said in part:

"We have no alternative to this step in view of the fact that the net return to us from the sale of newsprint has been reduced by about $20 a ton, due to increased costs of labor, materials, pulpwood and freight, and the depreciation in value of the American dollar."

About half the $20 decrease in return referred to by the Abitibi statement is accounted for by the change in relative values of the Canadian and American dollars.

When newsprint was raised last July 1 by $10 a ton to $116 at [illegible] the Canadian dollar was at a discount to the American, and Canadian newsprint producers collected the equivalent of about $123 in Canadian funds. With the Canadian dollar at its present premium, they collect around $113, Canadian currency.

Producers recently advised the federal government of the planned increase, giving their reasons for it, and the government decided not to intervene.

While the land area of Tibet is about 475,000 square miles, vast districts have never been explored.

Government Costs More Than Food

WHEN the people of any nation have to pay more money for government than they spend on food, the time surely has come for a close examination of public extravagance at all levels. One wonders if Canadians have any real conception of what government is costing them in proportion to expenditures per capita on the essentials of living. A look at some of the sober analyses made by the Dominion bureau of statistics might help to bring this relationship into perspective.

Last year, for example, the bureau reports that the per capita expenditure on food amounted to $245, which was $40 less than each individual's share of the $4,000,000,000 federal budget for that year. Since eating habits do not vary much from year to year, and since the food section of the cost-of-living index seems fairly static for the time being, it is reasonable to assume that approximately the same amount per capita will be spent on food this year. In the current fiscal year, however, federal taxation on a basis of total population will be at the rate of $320 a head. The government would have Canadians believe that this is the price of national defense, but it is not. More than half of this $320—to be exact, $180—is for purposes other than defense.

Add to the $320-per-person Dominion load another $140 for the individual share of the provincial budget, and it will be seen that the per capita burden of federal and provincial government in British Columbia is not $320, but $460. Add again the price of local administration and it becomes apparent that for those living in organized communities in this province the cost of government will be more than twice the Canadian average expenditure on food.

It is a profoundly shocking realization that for every $10 spent on food bills $20 or more is handed over to federal, provincial and municipal treasuries. It is more disturbing still that at Dominion and provincial levels of government extravagance becomes more pronounced every year.

Breathing Space in Korea

WHEN he said that the Communist negotiators have no real desire to sign a truce Brigadier Rockingham was voicing a thought long held by many people across the country. The brigadier was expressing only his personal opinion, but he comes fresh from the battlefield and that opinion will carry weight. Probably many of his fellow officers there think the same way.

Brigadier Rockingham noted a point that is cardinal to a soldier's thinking and of especial importance to the men he led with distinction during his year-old-command of the Canadian brigade. This is that prior to the opening of the cease-fire talks the Communist forces had been badly damaged by allied action, and that the subsequent comparative lull has given them ample time to repair their losses.

It is true that absence of large-scale offensive action reacts both ways, and U.N. casualties of late have been lessened as well as those of the Communists, but the benefit has lain mostly with the enemy. It is the brigadier's belief that Red forces have been built up to the point where they are capable of launching renewed all-out attacks. The hard-won advantage secured by U.N. troops before the truce talks began has been lost.

One expects a soldier to speak in forthright terms, and Brigadier Rockingham's reference to the talks as "this sort of nonsense" will be echoed by many people at home. These cease fire negotiations have been going on for nearly a year, thus strengthening the suspicion that they were invoked by the enemy merely because the battle was going against the Red forces. The feelings of the Canadian and other allied soldiers in Korea can easily be understood.

Leaders and Followers

IN this generation at least the theory of the "great man" in government is on the wane. It has never been true that the world stopped spinning in its course and reversed itself at the behest of any individual, small or great. Europe has had many a sad lesson in the past that omnipotence is not a human attainment however often it may be aspired to or for the moment assumed. Similarly on this continent the age of the "great man" is passing. It takes both leaders and followers to get anything significant done about the condition of human affairs, the more so as these circumstances become tangled and require straightening out.

Tolstoy in his great book, "War and Peace," indicated that the precipitating causes of war were many and diverse and that no one individual could either start them or stop them in their course. Similarly with all forms of human endeavor, it is a majority and not an individual which prevails. South of the border one is beginning to hear the words Republican and Democrat again, not president or challenger in the same sense as pertained before. Here in British Columbia it is no longer the Johnson-Anscomb government, and both leaders are now mentioned more correctly for what they are, the heads of their respective parties.

These thoughts are engendered principally by the effect of the B.C. election campaign to date; with its multiplicity of platforms, its conflicting remedies and many-tongued spokesmen. In the end, however, it will be that leader who has the largest and most effective following who may have the opportunity of forming a new government in British Columbia; and he will be of importance not so much for himself or his leadership, as for the unity of his following on some specific platform. Stripped down to its essentials, probably all electors want the same thing for British Columbia—sane and orderly progress. It is the means of achieving this which divide. For the first time in ten years British Columbia has the opportunity of settling that issue on straight party lines. The days of miracle workers are over.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir,—I am still another one that thinks that the hospital insurance plan is a long way from perfect, especially for older people. I had a friend who took sick with a very bad attack of shingles. If one has never had shingles or has never seen anyone with it, one can have no idea of what the pain is like. Well, this friend was told she could not get into the hospital, and has had to drag herself into town to the doctor's office trying this and that to get relief; and up to the last two days has spent $22 on drugs. She is an old-age pensioner, owns her own home, and has paid her hospital insurance to date and can get absolutely nothing.

If she went to the hospital as an out-patient for X-ray treatments she would have to pay $7 or $8 a treatment. I cannot see why they call this insurance. It is far from that. I always thought insurance was preparing ahead for an emergency. I can't think of a worse name for it, nor can I see why they bill old-age pensioners of 73 years of age when there are hundreds who have never paid at all.

LOGGING THE WATERSHED

Sir,—The Strawberry Vale and District Community Club recently had the good fortune to hear Gordon Sword explain the South Vancouver Island Rangers' stand against the logging of Sooke Lake watershed. We are firmly opposed to any action by the Greater Victoria Water Board until the citizens affected understand just what is going on. We know that the average ratepayer is totally unaware of the serious situation he will certainly face in ten years time if the proposed logging of Sooke Lake watershed is carried out.

Our virgin Sooke Lake forests have stood for centuries, secure and intact. Just leave them alone. Under the patch system of logging planned for the watershed, each patch of several acres is to be logged off clean. Everything goes. Then that patch is reforested. Artificial reforestation is costly and uncertain.

Second growth timber does not adequately replace natural forest advantages for a watershed. It takes 20 years or more for the tiny seedling once planted to form any appreciable protection to the forest floor, to prevent quick run-off of snow and rain. Several generations of Victorians would come and go before new trees could provide the present Sooke Lake forest shade and density, which slows evaporation and prevents erosion. Why not leave it as it is?

At a water board meeting held on February 20 the members admitted and none denied that in its present state the watershed produces sufficient pure water to supply an increased Greater Victoria population of the future; that there is less danger of contamination of the water if the forest is allowed to stand uncut than would exist under logging operations; that the logging of the Sooke Lake watershed, under the system proposed to and accepted by the board, will be an experiment which has not previously been tried by any other Canadian city; the logging of our Sooke Lake watershed will be undertaken for the purpose of raising money, and that the estimated yearly revenue would amount to 90 cents per citizen, or 7½ cents each month . . .

MIDDLE-AGE GROUP

Sir,—I would like space to say that I heartily agree with M. Martin about employing self-supporting people between the ages of 40 and 65 and young girls and boys, instead of young married women and mothers, whose husbands are also employed.

If the older self-supporting generation were given more consideration, and the young married mothers stayed at home and looked after their children and homes it might eliminate juvenile delinquency.

I am myself in that age category, too old for any job that I have applied for, although I have a fair education in electrical line. I am not old enough for a pension, cannot get unemployment insurance as I have only worked 53 days last year and not a day's work this year.

More work for our older class will lighten the burden of social departments and that would be a saving in itself.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

NOWADAYS one shouldn't be surprised by anything but I confess my eyebrow lifted a bit when I read a news item about a new 28,000-ton Orient liner being built—It is to have no mast!

To a landlubber who pretends to himself he has the sea in his blood just because he grew up alongside ships of various types and sizes, all with masts, such nonconformity is startling. Somehow I can't think of a ship as a ship if it has no mast.

This departure from the orthodox is not a deliberate attempt to create new nautical design, although it could and may be a precedent that will be followed. Actually the omission of a mast on the vessel in question, the Orsova, is due to the engines being moved forward, which in turn pushes the funnel six feet ahead. If the mast had been retained it would have cut down the space of the games deck, which of course would never do. The convenience of the passengers must come first—so, no mast.

* * *

Most ships have two masts, as you know, no matter their type. Originally the Orsova was to have only one, which is a recent shipbuilding trend. The 34,000-ton Cunarder, the palatial cruise liner Corona, has but one mast, and a tripod mast at that. The new P. and O. liner Himalaya is a one-master. So is the Black Ball ferry, the Chinook, which we see every day.

But no mast at all will take some getting used to, at first anyway. It is surprising how we adapt ourselves to change, however. When first I saw the Chinook, for instance, it didn't seem to me to be a ship. No ship in my memory had a silhouette like it, and indeed the sight shocked me to the keel. Now I watch it move gently out of the Inner Harbor without a qualm—well, not much of a qualm. In my heart I suppose I prefer the outlines of, say, the Princess Marguerite.

Yet the Marguerite doesn't look a bit like the Pamir, the famous barque which put in here a year or so ago. The old windjammers bore little resemblance to the modern ship, freighter or passenger, so you see how easy it is to absorb a difference and think no more about it.

* * *

As to masts, these came into being when a primitive "navigator" conceived the idea of a sail and stuck a pole into the hollowed out log that was his boat. The more masts the more sail, hence eventually the four-masted Pamir. One of the earliest steamships, the Great Eastern, had no fewer than six masts. She had five funnels, too, for in addition to sails she had enormous side-paddles.

Incidentally, this forerunner of the present-day trans-Atlantic liner, built about a hundred years ago, had a gross tonnage of nearly 19,000 tons. Large-scale shipbuilding is nothing new, you see.

Allowing for the fact that big liners of today are really floating hotels, with, as in the case of the Orsova, the well-being of the passengers the first consideration, it is perhaps surprising that modern ships still look like ships at all. Marine architects seem rather inclined to imitate the motor car and streamline them into the water, but even so they have to date managed to retain much of the traditional appearance.

What will follow now that the Orsova has discarded the age-old mast, however, is any sailor's guess. Promenade decks are gradually being enclosed by windows and soon, perhaps, the superstructure will disappear entirely behind an aluminum shield.

Some day a ship in silhouette will resemble an elongated automobile afloat, with an arched roof rising from stem to midships, and down again to stern—and what's aback and beneath the roof no telescope will ever reveal.

By that time the funnels will have gone, too, but no doubt a ship will then be called something else.

Free Elections for All Germany

By W. N. EWER, From London

THE essential problem before the western powers in drafting their note to Moscow is to find a starting point for real and rapid steps towards the reunion of Germany.

The situation at present is this: All four "occupying powers" — America, Britain, France and Russia—have now agreed that unity must be obtained by the creation of an all-German government and that the first requisite for the creation of an all-German government must be the holding of free all-German elections. So the immediate problem is how to arrange for the holding in both West and East Germany of elections in conditions which all four powers and also the German people in both parts of the country will regard as free and democratic. And that in fact means that the western powers and the West German government must be satisfied that conditions for free elections are being created in the Soviet zone where they certainly do not exist today.

* * *

The three western powers proposed in their note of March 25 that the commission set up by the United Nations Assembly for the purpose should be allowed to investigate and report, in all zones, whether "circumstances which safeguard the national and individual liberties of the German people" exist. This proposal the Soviet government rejected in its note of April 9, mainly on the juridical ground that it would involve—according to the Russians—a violation of Article 107 of the United Nations Charter. Instead they proposed in rather vague terms "verification by a commission formed by the four powers."

That seemed to bring a deadlock. The Russians will not accept the verdict of the United Nations commission. The western powers feel that in view of past experience a four-power commission would probably only result in sharp and fruitless disagreement. Moreover, past experience suggests that when the Russian proposal came to be explained in detail it would be that the authorities of each occupying power would report to the commission on conditions in its own zone; which would obviously lead nowhere.

* * *

Merely to repeat the arguments in favor of the United Nations commission, to refute the Russian argument against it, and to reject the Russian proposal for a four-power commission would simply have been to emphasize and prolong the deadlock. Some way out, some new proposal was clearly necessary if there was to be any chance of progress.

One idea which has had much public discussion and much careful governmental consideration is that of holding some form of four-power conference to discuss the whole matter. It is an idea which has obvious attractions. And it would probably be acceptable to the Soviet government which, in its first note of March 10, had suggested that the four powers should in some unspecified way "examine the conditions favoring the earliest establishment of an all-German government expressing the will of the German people."

At some stage obviously there would have to be some joint action by the occupying powers and therefore some form of prior consultation and agreement. But experience again suggested that the chances of a four-power meeting at this stage reaching agreement whether or not conditions for free elections exist in the Soviet zone are very slight indeed. Such meetings have in fact usually produced sharp clashes and conflicts which have achieved nothing, but have, if anything made matters worse.

Moreover, this question of conditions for free elections is one which calls, in the first place, not for discussion in a conference but for examination on the spot. The facts need to be established and recommendations made as to the changes, if any, which are needed to ensure the necessary freedoms. Some sort of investigation and report seems to be quite essential before discussions can be profitable. And it must be of a character that can be accepted by all parties concerned.

* * *

The problem is therefore to combine the two ideas—of an impartial investigation and of a four-power discussion. The investigation must logically come first. For it would be idle to start discussing ways and means of holding elections until all parties are reasonably convinced that the conditions for elections exist. But if and when it is agreed that those conditions do exist, then a four-power consultation would be not only desirable but essential.

If Moscow accepts that estimate of the situation, there will no doubt be still many difficulties ahead. But at any rate we shall, for the first time, be making real and substantial progress towards German unity in democratic conditions. But if Moscow rejects such an estimate, one will be driven inescapably to the depressing conclusion that its professions of willingness to have free elections as a basis for German unity were not seriously intended but were a mere propaganda manœuvre.

How to Woo Consumers

(From The Edmonton Journal)

GRANT MacEwan, who is held in the highest regard in agricultural and scholastic circles in western Canada, has been given a new job, that of general manager of the western section of the Council of Beef Producers. The announcement states that his primary task will be to establish "liaison between beef producers and consumers." To put it more bluntly, he is expected to boost the consumption of beef, and hence its sale, in Canada.

Mr. MacEwan has what should be an easy task—as far as the consumer side of his job is concerned. All he will need to do is to persuade the producers that they should allow the price of beef to find its economic level, unsupported by federal floor prices and by round-about international "deals" that are going to cost the taxpayers, who are consumers also, at least $10,000,000 in a year, and probably much more.

The deal by which the government of Canada will turn over to the United Kingdom some 40,000,000 pounds of beef and pork, inaccurately described as "surplus," for which it will be paid by a similar amount of New Zealand frozen beef, which it is hoped the United States will be good enough to buy, ignores the potential market right in Canada. That market is almost six times the 40,000,000 pounds being made much of by Agriculture Minister Gardiner in announcing his three-way deal.

Canadians will hope that the livestock producers, under the guidance of Mr. MacEwan, will return to the solid ground of economic reality. Let them indeed establish good relations between themselves and the consumers. Let them forget the recently fashionable practice of rushing to Ottawa for a "floor" every time a price-drop threatens, and let them rather use the old-fashioned but proven device of a cut in prices to restore consumer demand.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IN both Canada and the United States, the question of allowing clergymen to smoke is currently being taken up by religious conventions of those Protestant sects which for more than a century have imposed the strictest canons of behavior on their ministers. In both the Catholic and Anglican clergy, smoking has been a matter of little concern for generations. The sight of a priest or an Anglican parson in his white collar comfortably enjoying a cigar or a cosy old pipe has always given those of us who belong to the more self-conscious denominations a curious jolt.

We don't mind our clergy eating very heartily; they can have a passion for ice cream; at chicken suppers they may set us all an example of capacity with three pieces of pie. We do not mind them indulging themselves in the most exotic of foods, such as shrimps, oysters, pickled herrings, dill pickles. The heartier they eat, the heartier we feel towards them. We do not mind them indulging themselves in hair tonic or even toupees; and they can endear themselves to us with certain extravagances of vestment, clothing, gowns, books or a taste for art or classical music. They can have all the tea, coffee, pop and other stimulant drinks they can hold. But nothing stronger. And no smoking!

There must be not two or three but a hundred different viewpoints and approaches to this question of clergymen smoking. And no matter what the national conventions of these religious bodies arrive at in the way of a decision the chances are that congregations in all parts of the country will be riven and divided over the issue.

My grandmother held the view that all clergymen, of all denominations, automatically got to Heaven without any question. If this be so, they ought to pay something for that peculiar privilege.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—At a meeting of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, C. L. Harrison maintained that there was a sum of $1,000,000 in the hands of the Dominion Government which belonged by right to the sealing interests in Victoria.

50 YEARS AGO—There is a building boom at Shawnigan Lake at present, and a number of quite imposing structures are being erected. . . . Mr. Keonig's Strathcona Hotel has been completed.

85 YEARS AGO—The proposition to annex this colony to the United States is impractical and absurd. There is not the slightest chance that the petition to the Home Government will receive consideration.

Peary Traces at Pole

Flier Would Move Peary Documents

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, May 20 (BUP).—A veteran Arctic flier believes four sealed boxes left in the Arctic wastes by Admiral Robert E. Peary's polar expedition 43 years ago may contain "priceless historical documents" which should be removed to a museum.

Lieut.-Col. William P. Benedict, of Paradise, Cal. and Lieut.-Col. Joseph O. Fletcher of Shawnee, Oklahoma, spotted Peary's cache while making a low-level flight over the ice shelf bordering Ellesmere Island north of Greenland on May 4, the day before their historic landing at the North Pole.

Benedict immediately set the C-47 plane down at Cape Columbia and the crew walked to the cache a mile away. It was marked by broken sled runners set upright in a tripod arrangement.

The fliers are believed to be the first persons to visit the spot in 43 years.

In his first interview since returning from the Arctic, Benedict yesterday said he gave orders to his crewmen not to disturb the four boxes packed inside wooden crates.

He said he was convinced the cache should be left intact until it is removed to a museum and that it should be replaced by a permanent monument to the Arctic explorer.

Benedict urged that either the United States or Canada send a plane to pick up the boxes which are on Canadian territory.

He said he had no idea what the boxes contained, but pointed out that Peary stated in his book "The North Pole" that documents concerning his 1909 expedition were left in the polar regions.

Cominco Tops Alberta's Oil

VANCOUVER, May 20 (CP).—Gross value of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company products in 1951 far exceeded Alberta's $132,000,000 made from oil and gas that year, D. D. Borris, Cominco's research and development director, said here today. He did not say by how much, however.

Speaking before Vancouver members of the Canadian Institute of Mining, Mr. Borris said "Cominco is the world's greatest producer of lead, zinc and fertilizer. Its 1951 tax bill in B.C. was $29,500,000, one-quarter of the entire provincial budget."

Mr. Borris claimed that the fertilizer sold by the company to the Prairies has increased Canadian crop by more than 35,000,000 bushels.

Melodious Tootling Comes Before 'Hi, Hi!'

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP).—The Japanese say it differently—at least it sounds that way when their language is translated into English.

A translation of a digest of Japanese traffic laws, reprinted in an Ottawa Transportation Commission publication, has some gems in the police Japanese fashion. They include these paragraphs:

"At the rise of the hand of policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him by or otherwise disrespect him.

"When a passenger of the foot hoves in sight, tootle the horn trumpet melodiously at first. If he still obstacles your passage, tootle him with more vigor and express by word of mouth the warning 'Hi, hi.'

"Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explode the exhaust box at him. Go soothingly by, or stop at the roadside till he pass away. Give big space to the festive dogs that make sport on the roadway. Avoid entanglement of the dog with your wheel spokes.

"Go soothingly on the grease-mud, as there lurk the skid-demon. Press the brake of the foot as you roll around the corner to save the collapse and the tie-up."

Reds Claim Superior Harpoonists

LONDON, May 20 (AP).—Moscow radio sounded a few loud sneers today at the achievements of capitalist fishermen. In Russia, a broadcast said, everybody fishes better.

The big fish story was set off by the return of a Soviet whaling flotilla after seven months in the Antarctic. The Russian fishermen, the broadcast said, had accounted for "great achievements."

"Vasily Tupikov, for example, killed 372 whales. A hero of Socialist labor, Afansy Purgin, killed 333, and Georry Ofsyannikov, 319," Moscow boasted, adding:

"The Norwegian harpooner Marius Jakobsen, of 20 years' standing and the best harpooner in the capitalist countries, has during one season killed only 151 whales.

"His record," Moscow calmly added, "was beaten by all Soviet harpooners."

Federal Seizure of Oats Upheld by Privy Council

OTTAWA, May 20 (CP).—The federal government's 1947 seizure of oats and barley to prevent abnormal market profits from price decontrol was upheld today by the judicial committee of the Privy Council in London.

After three Canadian courts had ruled the action illegal, the Privy Council finally upheld it and relieved the government of the possibility of suits from grain traders who lost potential profits from the seizure.

The high court's verdict was delivered in an action brought by the government and the Canadian Wheat Board against Jeremiah T. Nolan, Chicago grain trader, and his Canadian agents, Hallett and Carey, Ltd., of Winnipeg.

Nolan was holding 40,000 bushels of barley in Canadian elevators when the government in 1947 ordered the Wheat Board to take over all oats and barley in commercial positions through an order-in-council passed under the Emergency Transitional Powers Act of 1945.

The action was taken to prevent traders from cashing in on a big price jump that followed decontrol.

Nolan was the only Canadian holder of grain to challenge the validity of the order under the now lapsed transitional measure. He won in the Manitoba courts and before the Supreme Court of Canada.

In the Privy Council decision, announced by Justice Minister Garson in the Commons, Lord Radcliffe said their lordships did not see what justification there was for thinking the 1945 act in any way implied exclusive of any power in any circumstances to acquire property compulsorily.

For practical purposes, the decision has no effect on the finances of any of the grain traders except Nolan. The government would have been liable for suits from the others if it had lost the case. But it had announced that, in this event, it would bring down legislation in parliament to confirm the settlements with all except Nolan.

Counsel Close Evidence In Long Trial

HULL, Que., May 20 (CP).—Crown and defense counsel today concluded presentation of evidence at the trial of Rheal Leo Bertrand, charged with the murder of his bride of two months.

Tomorrow—the ninth day of the trial—the lawyers will sum up the evidence and Mr. Justice Francois Caron of Montreal will deliver his charge to the jury. The case then will be placed in the hands of the 12-man jury.

Defense counsel Joseph Ste. Marie of Hull will address the jury first. He will be followed by Crown Prosecutor Noel Dorion of Quebec and Mr. Justice Caron.

The trial is Bertrand's second. The first ended spectacularly in February when the presiding judge—Mr. Justice Valmore Bienvenue of Quebec—suffered a heart attack while delivering his charge to the jury and died minutes later.

The crown charges that Bertrand, 37, killed his 55-year-old bride to obtain control of her $30,000 estate. It alleges that Bertrand killed his wife November 10 in a lonely hunting cabin at Lac Ste. Marie, Que., 60 miles north of Hull; that he saturated her body with an inflammable fluid and then set the cabin afire.

Witnesses produced by the Crown quoted Bertrand as telling them he believed his wife died when a gas lamp exploded in the cabin while he was at his car—about a quarter of a mile away—getting blankets and supplies.

MOSCOW, May 20 (AP).—Pravda headlined today that the American military is "preparing new murders of war prisoners on Koje Island."

Hospital Denies Eva Peron Treated

LONDON, Ont., May 20 (CP).—The Toronto Telegram said today that Mrs. Juan Peron, wife of the Argentine dictator, underwent treatment with the cobalt bomb at Victoria Hospital recently. Hospital officials said they had no knowledge she had been there.

The report gave no hint of the ailment of the vivacious blonde first lady of Argentina. Radiation from the Canadian-developed cobalt bomb is generally a treatment for cancer.

The Telegram said Mrs. Peron was flown here under "the highest of security cloaks."

Dr. Augustin Nores Martinez, Argentina's ambassador to Canada, said in Ottawa that Mrs. Peron was in Buenos Aires last month.

Dr. Carman Kirk, Victoria Hospital superintendent, said he had no knowledge of Mrs. Peron ever being admitted to the hospital, "even incognito." He said Dr. Ivan Smith, director of the cancer clinic, and Dr. Frank Bailey, who directs treatment with the cobalt bomb, scoffed at the report. Dr. Bailey denied that Mrs. Peron had received treatment at the clinic.

In Buenos Aires there was no official comment. Word from the Argentine capital was that she appeared in public there April 17, received a Brazilian decoration April 25 and spoke May 1 to May Day celebration. May 7 and 8 she attended various celebrations in connection with [illegible] May [illegible] made a radio address to Argentine miners.

The politically-prominent Mrs. Peron, variously reported as 30 or 33, underwent a major operation in Buenos Aires last November. The one-time movie actress, known as Evita (Little Eva) to millions of citizens of Argentina, had been ill several weeks with what doctors called acute anaemia.

In olden times mantraps were used on the farms and estates of England to catch poachers and trespassers.

Saanich Liberal Pledges Island Irrigation Scheme

An over-all plan for irrigation on Vancouver Island and especially Saanich Peninsula will be pursued to the utmost by the Liberals, Arthur Ash, Saanich candidate, said last night.

"If this riding and other lower Vancouver Island areas had an adequate water supply, they could maintain themselves on produce from the land as well as create a greater market for our farmers," he told a campaign meeting in Marigold Hall.

He said he hoped it would be possible to get the federal authorities to co-operate and institute an over-all irrigation plan on Vancouver Island, extending to the province benefits provided by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act.

"This is part of the Liberal Party platform and will be pursued to the utmost," Mr. Ash said.

PROMISES ASSAILED

He lashed out at "wild promises" being made by the C.C.F. Just about everything is being promised with complete disregard of where the money will come from. Saanich voters should consider whether this is an honest and sincere appeal to their intelligence, he added.

Mr. Ash said he would work in the people's interests.

The Liberal candidate attacked the C.C.F. for its stand regarding industry, particularly taxation. The province's industrial growth, he said, was created by individuals and companies coming to B.C. investing capital, creating employment and contributing taxes to local, provincial and federal governments.

The C.C.F. claims it will tax the timber industry, the most important one in the province.

NO CONTROL

"We in B.C. do not control the world lumber market prices. You cannot get more than the prevailing price. In most large industries the price is controlled by world markets and no provincial government can hope to control prices. Today industry pays more than 52 per cent of its profits to the federal government," Mr. Ash said.

A government's responsibility is to provide opportunities for earning a living, he said, and the present government is doing just that.

There is no magic formula for creating a Utopia, and the C.C.F. government in Saskatchewan has found this out, he said.

"Today it is a capitalistic as any government in Canada."

Hanger Drive Gathers 4,000 To Aid Scouts

Fairfield Boy Scouts and Cubs, aided by their fathers, last night collected 4,000 hangers in the first round of three-night hanger collection effort.

The hangers will be sold at a price reported to be about a penny a hanger to provide funds for the Scout hall on Chester Street.

Tonight the collectors will be busy in the area from Moss Street to Vancouver Street from Fairfield Road to the waterfront, but not Fairfield Road itself.

They ask hanger contributors to hang hangers in handy piles in hallways or on verandas.

Social Crediters Complete Slate

The Social Credit League has completed its nominations for the June 12 election. Social Credit will run candidates in 47 ridings, all except far-northern Atlin.

Five candidates were nominated in a last-minute drive to beat the May 22 deadline. They are George LaRue for Columbia, Arthur Murray for Prince Rupert, Kenneth McAmmond for Skeena, Mrs. Florence Gristy for Mackenzie and Cyril Shelford for Omineca.

Contractors Object To Wharf Comment

Rebuilding of Sidney wharf is proceeding as fast as possible, according to Victoria Pile Driving Company.

The company, answering reports that work was too slow, informed the Chamber of Commerce yesterday by letter that it objected to the fact that "during the past few weeks several people have seen fit to comment on this matter publicly."

The letter read, in part:

"Tenders were called for and bids were to be submitted by March 26, bids to be based on completion two months from the date of contract . . .

"On April 17, two days after placing our orders for materials, we were informed that we were awarded the contract.

DELIVERED EARLY

"Original delivery for creosoted lumber and piling was May 19, but by special efforts of our suppliers the delivery date was put forward to May 9.

"On May 6 we commenced operations at Sidney.

"With the urgency of this job still uppermost in our minds, we wished to duplicate our labor force provided the extra cost could be met, and we were given an undertaking by one of the parties chiefly interested in the rapid completion of this work that they would underwrite the amount required. On May 17 this crew was formed.

"From May 19 the job was double-shifted, with crews working from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. until completion."

Optimist Drive Rolling Along

Peanut program of the Victoria Optimist Club was rolling along a lot faster this week than the peanut the man rolled up Pike's Peak with his nose.

As a matter of fact, club members reported last night the current peanuts for pennies — or dollars — drive had the customers shelling out in fine style.

Part of the funds will be used for Optimist boys' work.

Tonight residents in the Fairfield district will be called on by the peanut men and given a chance to buy peanuts to help a boy in need.

Possible Huge Loss Seen in Power Development

The people of British Columbia may be "stuck" with a hydro-electric development in the Interior, because of a government gamble, C.C.F. election candidate Colin Cameron claims.

Mr. Cameron said last night at Oaklands School that the Celgar Development Ltd.'s threat to drop its multi-million-dollar forest product industry project in the Kootenays could mean abandonment of the Whatshan Lake power development also.

The government, he said, started building the Whatshan Lake hydro-electric project, ostensibly to supply domestic electricity, but in reality anticipating Celgar's needs.

Celgar said recently it may cancel its application to the government for forest management of 1,000,000 acres in the Arrow Lake region, unless it can get the entire acreage. Kootenay Forest Products Ltd. is opposing Celgar.

The B.C. government stands to lose a $65,000,000 investment, already made in the area, he said.

"It means that the Celgar Corporation is holding a gun to the head of the government—a government that has already invested your money in the hope of a corporation development," Mr. Cameron said.

The other two of three C.C.F. candidates in Victoria riding—Mrs. May Campbell and William Caird—also spoke.

Mrs. Campbell told of her conversion to Socialism in Saskatchewan.

She said that her C.C.F. husband and a son, who became disillusioned while working for a bank, convinced her that the golden rule does not apply in the world of business.

She said the provincial government again backed a big corporation recently in support of the Public Utilities Commission, which granted the B.C. Electric Company a fare increase.

Mr. Caird said the 10-year record of the Coalition pointed it out as the "real enemy of the people."

He ridiculed claims that the C.C.F. would keep capital out of B.C.

"You couldn't keep capital out of this province if you tried," he said.

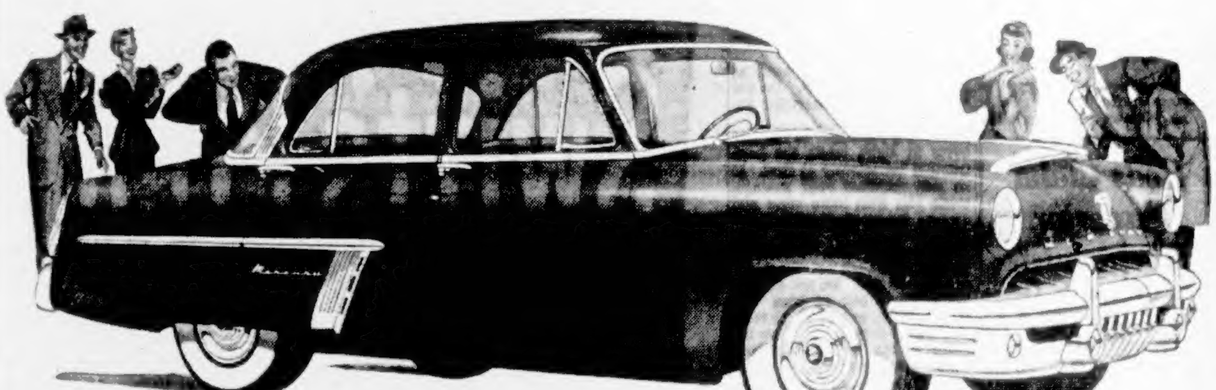
Now—Take a Good Look at the Most Challenging New Car of the year



White sidewall tires, rear fender shields and bumper-grille guards optional at extra cost when available.

Future Features for You Now!
1952
NEW "JET-SCOOP" FORERUNNER STYLING—Here's the most challenging new car design on the road—made possible by new methods in metal engineering. The result: new and different "let's go" lines, roomier "Space-planned" interiors, far greater visibility—1?% more—especially down front and over the fenders.

NEW "INTERCEPTOR" PANEL—Here's the most beautiful and practical instrument panel ever designed. It takes its inspiration from the quick-sight controls in the latest fighting aircraft. All instruments are conveniently grouped in a handsome, unitized console—built far out from the panel for easy reading, easy reaching and "eyes-front" safety.

NEW 125 HP. PERFORMANCE Mercury's improved hi-compression V-8 has greater power-to-weight ratio and is the product of the organization which, in the past 20 years, has built more V-8 engines than all other manufacturers combined.

NEW CENTRALIZED "HIDE-AWAY" GAS CAP—Located at the rear of the car behind the new hinged license-plate holder. You can approach gas pumps from either side, makes refuelling easier and faster—saves precious time when you are on the road! In the 1952 Mercury there's something new everywhere you look!

NEW "FLOOR-FREE" PEDAL—There's a look of the future in every feature. The brake pedal is suspension mounted for easier action and extra foot room. Big, powerful, quick-acting brakes provide smoother, safer, straight-line stops in response to the slightest toe pressure. The 1952 Mercury is the newest new car that you can drive.

MERCURY WITH MERC-O-MATIC DRIVE

MERCURY AGAIN WINS ECONOMY RUN

Mercury, the most challenging car of the year, has done it again . . . won the grand Sweepstakes prize in the longest and toughest test in Economy Run history. This year's American Automobile Association run covered 1,415-mile course from Los Angeles to Sun Valley. Road elevations ranged from below sea level to 8,010 feet in Arizona mountains. Mercury out-performed all others over this rugged and gruelling course. Look at Mercury's 3-in-a-row record: 3 out of 3 times winner in its price class; 2 out of 3 times Sweepstakes winner against all cars in every class. See . . . "Road Test" . . . and own a '52 Mercury similar to the car that won top awards in this official, impartial test.

Industrials Show Up Best At Montreal

MONTREAL, May 20 (CP)—Stock prices held steady today. Gains were limited to fractions while losses ranged to two points.

Beverages and banks posted a scattered list of advances. Utilities, papers and carriers turned downward.

Canada Steamships, which gained eight points yesterday, dropped two to 68. Canada Cement was off one at 67.

Fractional advances included Dominion Tar, Dominion Textile, International Paper, B.C. Forest, Canadian Breweries, Aluminum, International Petroleum and Consolidated Smelters.

Mines and western oils showed a majority of penny losses. Kenmayo, American Yellowknife, Opemiska and Carnegia eased. In oils, Del Rio, Jet, Sweet Grass and Tor American were off.

Little Headway Made

TORONTO, May 20 (CP).—Western oils closed lower. Industrials, golds and base metals made little headway.

Western oil losses ranged from pennies to the ⅞ drop of Gridoil. Britalta, Central Explorers, General Petroleum A, New Superior and Triad traded lower. Canadian Williston climbed sharply.

Base metal leaders were firm but lower-priced issues eased. Emerald Glacier, Hellens, Ontario Pyrites, Coldstream Copper and Sherritt-Gordon turned downward.

Oils Trade Lower

VANCOUVER, May 20.—Many oils failed to trade in a quiet session in which oils tended to droop while other sections were stationary.

Continental Oil was lower at 2.40, but York remained firm at .53.

Estella was firm among base metals at 1.48, but Western Uranium dipped to 4.05 and Silvan to 1.00.

Powell River gained 50 cents at 23.50, but Western Lumber lost the fraction at 7⅜.

Buying Flurry

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP).—A flurry of buying that hit in mid-session produced one of the best boosts today the stock market has enjoyed this month.

Prices advanced from fractions to around two points in favored groups such as chemicals and railroad issues.

The upturn failed to carry through to the close.

Transfers totaled 1,140,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed 60 cents at $102.30, its best advance since May 7. Rails were up 70 cents, industrials 60 cents and utilities 30 cents.

London Prices

LONDON, May 20 (Reuters)—The stock market was uninspired today showing reaction to the chancellor of the exchequer's decision to raise the distributed profits tax from 17½ to 22½ per cent. Losses were not great, however.

Industrials were worst hit but short covering helped a recovery and the section closed with only small losses.

British government bonds were quiet.

Common Currency Plan Put Forward

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

To west coast lumbermen and fish canners seeking a market replacement for their lost trade with the United Kingdom and other members of the Commonwealth, a new "star" or "stellar" currency offering freedom of trade might have more than normal interest.

The suggestion, by no means a new one, is made in the current issue of Financial Times of Montreal, by their British correspondent Paul De Hevesy. De Hevesy thinks the way to solve the dollar gap that is killing trade between the sterling area and the North American continent is the establishment of a common currency.

This, he claims, would be the first step toward a British-American customs and currency union. The new currency, either "Star" or "Stellar," is a combination of the words sterling and dollar.

De Hevesy points out that the abolition of sterling and dollar for a common currency might be backed by common gold reserves and balances of payments between the countries would become at once indeterminate. Fundamental political changes would not be necessary.

France and Italy recently set up a customs union without giving up one iota of independence, and the same applies between Britain and Eire, both of whom use the same currency, despite being miles apart in other aspects and ideals.

"A British-American common currency would become the best means of exchange and the safest depository of wealth," says De Hevesy.

DRASTIC REMEDY NEEDED

The common currency idea has many stumbling blocks, and has many opponents in both the sterling and dollar areas. At the same time, the present plight of trade between Canada and the rest of the Commonwealth is such that drastic new measures must be sought to restore it.

The facts that Britain, which used to buy more than half of Canada's exports, is now buying less than a quarter and as the new 1952 contracts are recorded and tabulated, that figure may have slipped even further.

Perhaps no one has been harder hit in Canada by the stagnation of British trade than British Columbia, and so far the lumber and fishing interests have found no prospect of a market to replace the valuable British trade, which has been the lifeblood of the primary industries for so long.

THOSE HIDDEN HORRORS

Here are some figures which show that the average Canadian pays considerably more in hidden taxes than he does in income tax. In 1951 the total Canadian revenue from personal income tax was $980,000,000. Hidden taxes amounted to $1,479,000,000.

Of these, the sales tax—10 per cent on practically every manufactured article—accounted for $602,000,000 of the national revenue.

As the average wage-earner is responsible for only a comparatively small percentage of the total personal income tax, but pays his full whack of the hidden taxes, it will be seen that the U.S. estimate that the wage earner pays $3.50 hidden for every openly taxed dollar (to which we referred last week) is equally applicable in Canada.

NEAR FORK IN ROAD

The New York magazine, Business Week, believes that the U.S. economy has still one more round of inflation in its system and that this new burst of inflation will hit production and prices in the second half of the year.

At the same time, Business Week believes that the economy is at one of the forks in the road, where business could turn one way or another.

"We are in the position to meet the demands of a garrison state and maintain a normally fluctuating civilian economy on top of it," says the magazine.

It sees signs that commodity prices are again picking up, that the treasury is making new borrowings; consumer incomes are still rising and house building has made a racing start this year.

On the other side of the ledger, spending for new plant and equipment is passing its peak; military spending will increase more slowly, and there's still no sign that consumer hard goods are out of the woods.

Greater Victoria High School Athletes in Action

Barry Caviness of Victoria High displays style with which he broke his own mark in boys' shotput. He heaved 16-pound weight 40 feet 7¾ inches to come within 2½ inches of provincial high school mark set last year by Ken Swalwell of New Westminster.—(Colonist photos by Bud Kinsman.)

Ruth Ann Gordon of Oak Bay Hgh School is shown clearing bar at 4 feet 3½ inches to win junior girls' high jump in field events of inter-high track and field meet yesterday. Miss Gordon's victory prevented Victoria High from making clean sweep of yesterday's five opening events.

Another record breaker was Chris Boyd of Victoria High shown at peak of her leap in senior girls' broad jump. Miss Boyd leaped 16 feet 7½ inches to better her own meet record by more than foot and gain consideration for premier honors in provincial meet next week. Field events will continue today.

Order Rescinded For Higher Levy On Boxla League

The Inter-City Lacrosse League has been returned to amateur status by the provincial finance department.

An order to collect the 17½ per cent tax assessed professional sports and amusements has been rescinded, J. T. Clark, surveyor of taxes, stated yesterday afternoon.

The tax will remain at 5 per cent, he said.

The about-face followed letters written to arenas housing Inter-City Lacross League teams announcing that the higher tax would be collected.

Joe Dukowski, manager of Victoria's Memorial Arena, received a letter Saturday from the office of the surveyor of taxes under the signature of Mr. Clark advising him that he was expected to collect the 17½ per cent levy.

The letter, dated May 16, stated:

"Under the Amusement Tax Act the rate of tax applicable to the prices of admission to entertainments and attractions the profits or proceeds of which in part or in whole are distributed amongst individual members of the club or organization for their personal use and enjoyment is 17½ per cent.

NO ALTERNATIVE

"According to information at my disposal it would appear that some portion at least of the profit or proceeds from the games played in the Inter-City Lacrosse League are so distributed, and under the circumstances I have no alternative but to instruct you to collect and account to the government for the tax at the rate mentioned herein, commencing with the first game played here for the current season.

"I will, therefore, look for your return of the tax based on the applicable rate of 17½ per cent commencing with the game played here on Wednesday, May 14."

Confusion was apparent in the order and its rescinding. Mr. Clark also noted yesterday that the department had "been toying with the idea of charging 17½ per cent but that the 5 per cent would be carried on and a study made."

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer was reported to have stated on Monday that "there will definitely be no increase this year. There was no authorization for an order."

CITES PRESS REPORT

Apparent reason for the order was the belief reportedly existing among tax officials that the Inter-City Lacrosse League was no longer in the no-profit amateur class and should pay the higher professional tax. Mr. Clark cited press reports last year of "shares" being distributed to players. He was apparently referring to reports that Victoria Shamrocks each received a $1,000 "share" for last season's play.

Arena managers are expected to get word today that the order has been rescinded.

Enforcement of the order at this late date would have worked a hardship on the teams involved. Arena contracts have long been signed and the sale of hundreds of season tickets would have meant that the clubs would have no chance to pass on the increase in admission prices and would have stood to lose the 12½ per cent difference. For the Shamrocks, who have almost 2,700 season-ticket holders, this would have meant an approximate loss of $4,000.

Vic High Athletes Set Three Records In Inter-High Track and Field Meet

HOW THEY STAND

	Aggregate	Roy Jones Trophy
Victoria High	28½	28½
Oak Bay	14½	14½
Esquimalt	10½	21
Mount View	8½	8½
Mt. Douglas	3	9

Three records were shattered in five events at Victoria High yesterday as the host school jumped into a 7½-point lead in the opening field events of the inter-high school track and field meet.

Although Victoria High copped four of the events and its athletes wrote three new records into the book, it holds only a shaky lead over Esquimalt in the race for the Roy Jones Trophy, emblematic of high school track supremacy.

Under the new point system devised this year to aid the smaller schools, Esquimalt had its point total multiplied by two while Mount Douglas' total was multiplied by three.

NEAR B.C. MARK

Ted Whan gained a fast start in defense of his senior boys' championship by winning the senior boys' broad jump with a record-breaking leap of 20 feet 11 inches. He shaved nine inches from the old mark held by Ray Lee, formerly of Victoria High, and his distance was close to the provincial record.

Fastest Canadian Women To Compete Here June 14

One of the features of the Olympic Preview to be staged in Victoria, Saturday, June 14, by the Victoria Y.M.C.A. Track and Field Club will be the appearance of eight girls recently selected by the Women's Amateur Athletic Association of Canada as the top Olympic track prospects.

Three of the girls selected, sprinters Eleanor McKenzie, Gerry Bemister and Louella Law of Vancouver, will probably figure in one of the best three-way rival matches in the sprints ever seen in Canada. Two other Mainland girls who will perform, Alice Folz and North Vancouver's diminutive Ann Reid, wound up the W.A.A.F.'s choice of top sprint selections. As a result Victoria fans will be able to see the fastest five women sprinters in Canada.

In the high jump the W.A.A.F. selected former Olympic and British Empire Games star Shirley Gordon and teen-age Alice Whitty of Vancouver.

JOSEPHS NAMED

Victoria received the only selection in the broad jump. The "Y's" Dawn Joseph received the honor with her Canadian record of 18 feet 7¼ inches set last summer.

The preview is also expected to attract every male star hoping for a spot on the B.C. team to travel to Hamilton for the Olympic trials. Selection officials will be in attendance and performances will be closely watched.

JUVENILES ADDED

The meet will be run in two sections, open and junior, so that the coming junior athletes will have a chance to show their wares. Two juvenile boys' events have been included this year—the 200 and 800 metres. All events will be run over the metric distances in preparation for the games.

The Joe Addison Perpetual Trophy, won last year by Vancouver's Doug Clement, will be up for competition for the junior boys' 400-metres and the Victoria "Y" Trophy, won last year by Laurie Wallace's Vic High team, will again be the prize for the junior section.

Tickets for the meet may be obtained at the "Y" desk or from any member of the "Y" track club.

Capture O. B. Allan Trophy

Qualicum Beach captured O. B. Allan Cup, emblematic of Vancouver Island intermediate soccer championship, by defeating Cumberland 3-0, in overtime, at Cumberland Sunday. Tillsonburg Scores Second Win

TILLSONBURG, Ont., May 20 (CP).—Tillsonburg Livingstons had to go all out to edge hard-fighting University of Western Ontario Mustangs 75-69 tonight to win the second game in the Canadian Olympic basketball trials. Livvies won the first game of the best-of-five series 79-65 last night.

Tonight's contest was a thriller all the way with Tillsonburg staging a great fourth-quarter rally to gain the victory.

Both teams forced a fast pace throughout with Western holding a 66-65 lead with seven minutes left in the game.

Play roughened up in the latter stages of the contest and Western lost four players via the foul route while Tillsonburg lost three with five fouls. Playing-coach Paul Thomas of Tillsonburg and Walt Karabin of Western were disqualified with two minutes to go for fighting.

Referees Kitch McPherson and Roy Pethick called 58 fouls with Tillsonburg being assessed 30.

Victoria Tyees had their Western International League lead pared to a single point last night when their game with Salem Senators at Royal Athletic Park was rained out while Spokane Indians edged Wenatchee Chiefs, 8-6, at Wenatchee.

Tyees and Senators will pick up their rained-out game tonight as the opening half of a double header, starting at 7 p.m. Bill Wisneski will draw the starting mound assignment for Tyees in the opening game with either Jim Propst or Ben Lorino going in the nightcap.

Booster Night, originally scheduled last night, will now be held tomorrow when Tri-City Braves make their first appearance of the season here. Each Booster member will be able to take another fan for the price of the one admission.

John Conant hurled the Indians to their win, although he needed help from Bob Roberts to preserve his 14th straight victory over a two-year span, a league record.

Marlyn Burleson tagged Conant for three for three and Walt Pocekay rapped him for three for four to take batting honors.

Lewiston Broncs moved up a notch by edging Yakima Bears, 6-5, before a slim crowd of 491 at Yakima. Catcher Don Lundberg drove in four runs with three doubles and a single.

Chunky Connie Marrero pitched a four-hitter last night to give Washington Senators their fourth straight triumph over St. Louis Browns 2-0. It was Marrero's fourth victory against no defeats this season.

Veteran Johnny Sain weakened after a sharp start but notched his fourth victory with a six-hitter as New York Yankees shaded Chicago White Sox 4-3.

The two American League games were the only ones played in the major leagues. All four games in the National League and two others in the American League were rained out.

The Browns, who have yet to gain a victory over the Senators this season, got their bats in action only once after hits in the first and second innings. They nicked Marrero for two hits in the eighth, putting men on second and third with two out, but failed to make use of the opportunity.

It was Marrero all the way after the third when singles by Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson followed Eddie Yost's inning-opening walk to give the Cuban righthander his two-run lead. Jensen, the ex-New York Yankee, was the big man for the Senators, getting three-for-three off Tommy Byrne, ex-Yankee southpaw.

Byrne put together a creditable job, walking three and fanning the same number. But he couldn't match Marrero, who struck out eight while giving up just two bases on balls.

The 33-year-old Sain, who has lost one game in five starts, pitched no-hit ball for the Yankees in the first four innings and retired the first 12 batters in order.

Pete Dawe Tosses Minor No-Hitter

Pete Dawe pitched City Centre to a no-hit, 6-1, victory over Esquimalt in a Victoria Minor Baseball Association juvenile division game at Macdonald Park last night. Dawe struck out 17 batters in his mound stint.

In the other juvenile games, Saanich edged Combines, 2-1, and Oakland outslugged Fairfield, 16-14.

Cricket Teams Selected For North-South Match

Teams which will represent the north and south during the annual North and South cricket match Saturday were released last night by Bill Anders, president of the Victoria and District Cricket Association.

The match will be played at the Beacon Hill Park oval, starting at 2 p.m.

Anders announced that these two teams are well balanced. Most of the players appearing in the game will probably be on the Victoria representative team which meets Vancouver in Victoria July 1.

Each one of the Victoria clubs has placed at least one player on the South team with Albions leading the way with four selections. The North club has been chosen from the Cowichan team, Shawnigan Lake School and a couple of players on Victoria teams who live outside Victoria.

Teams selected follow:

South—Reg Wenman (captain), Bob Mainwaring, Jack Sparks, Bob Colquhoun, Jim Richards, Dennis Hendra, Tony Bristowe, Jim Sherratt, John Moss, Jim Oakman and Bob Sherratt.

Vancouver Club Upsets Salmonacs—Meet Rocks

Nanaimo	0	3	39	60	0

Next game, tonight: Vancouver at Victoria.

Victoria Shamrocks received some unexpected assistance last night when Vancouver dumped the vaunted New Westminster Salmonacs, 10-5, and so prevented them from pulling out of the first place tie with Victoria.

The Rocks hope to take sole possession of first place themselves tonight when they meet the surprising Vancouver club at Memorial Arena at 8.30. Rocks and Salmonacs are now stalemated with three wins and one loss each.

HETHERINGTON IN GOAL

Shamrock playing-coach Arnie Ferguson announced last night that he would use the same line-up which trounced North Shore Monday, except that Jim Hetherington would be taking his turn in goal.

The starting line-up has Norm Coates and Ferguson on defense with Tom Druce as rover. Larry Booth will be centring Archie Browning and Whitey Severson.

The second line has Len Scott and Duff McCaghey on defense with Darrell Popham as rover and Bob Monaghan centring Jackie Northup and Art Green. Fred Ranson will be used as a utility player.

Ferguson announced that injured Norm Baker would be out of action all this week and possibly longer.

Vancouver's win last night, its second in a row, boosted it into second place, one game behind the league-leaders.

LOSE IMPORT

New Westminster also lost the services, probably for the entire season, of promising J. J. Hill, their Eastern import, who in three games showed flashes of being one of their greatest assets. Hill, it seems, was not satisfied with his job in New Westminster and presumably has headed back East.

Salmonacs, however, were bolstered by the return of the bruising defenseman Jack Proctor, back from holidays.

Bobby Marsh and Proctor tangled in the third period, and Proctor carried the fight. Marsh retired with a severe gash over his right eye and considerably more respect for the Salmonac huskie. Proctor got a five-minute penalty for fighting and a five-minute high-sticking assessment for his troubles.

Canadian Golf Pros Plan Development of Juniors

The executive of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association has appointed a committee to further development of junior players.

The move is in line with recognition by the Royal Canadian Golf Association of May 31 as national golf day, which also has the support of the C.P.G.A.

Money raised through player participants on that day will be divided between the Canadian Red Cross and, for junior-development purposes, the R.C.G.A.

The committee set up by the C.P.G.A. executive is made up of Les Franks, Toronto; Jimmy Patton, Seigniory Club, Que., and Kas Zabowski, Halifax.

The committee will draw up recommendations for uniform teaching of fundamentals among school children and other youngsters.

The executive decided also to support again a national caddy day through a financial contribution of $300.

It was agreed to hold the 1952 C.P.G.A. tournament in Winnipeg [illegible] starting July 16.

The final in the pro assistants' championship will be held in Toronto, August 22.

Two honorary vice-presidents named to the C.P.G.A. are Horton Smith, president of the United States P.G.A., and Joe Novak, past president of that body.

Honorary directors named included Dr. Arnold Mitchell of Montreal, president of the Quebec branch of the C.P.G.A.

A nominating committee was named to draw up a slate for the annual meeting of the C.P.G.A., which will be held in connection with the pros' tournament at Winnipeg.

The nominating committee is: Jimmy Patton, Seigniory, Que.; Les Franks, Toronto, and Redvers McKenzie, Montreal.

Major League Salaries Nearly Double of 1929

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP).—In 1929, just before the depression, a major league baseball club owner needed $140,000 a year for the salaries of players, coaches and a manager. The total outlay for 16 major league clubs that year was approximately $3,765,000.

By 1950 only one big league spent less than $300,000 for such salaries and four of them went over the half-million mark. The total jumped to $6,920,900.

These and other interesting figures are revealed in a hefty volume titled "Study of Monopoly Power" which reports the hearings by a sub-committee under Representative Emanuel Celler (Dem., N.Y.) which inquired into the operation of big league baseball last year.

One of the many tables included in the book details the salaries of each club for 1929, 1933, 1939, 1946 and 1950. Individual player salaries are not listed.

TOP-PAY CLUBS

Only one of the six tables doesn't show New York Yankees at the top of the payroll list. The exception was in 1945, early in the Larry MacPhail regime, when they dropped behind Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers, the first clubs to go over $500,000 a year for salaries.

Similarly, Chicago Cubs generally have been the top-pay club of the National League with New York Giants close behind.

The survey shows Washington never has been last, nor first, in the American League salary totals. In 1950 St. Louis Cardinals under Fred Saigh moved to the top of the National League with a $495,683 payroll. The only year Brooklyn topped the list was 1943, when general manager Rickey laid out $271,424 in salaries.

The highest salary total for one club was the Yankees' $651,605 in 1950; the lowest Philadelphia Athletics' $135,405 in 1943.

Winning of World Flyweight Crown Climax of Rags to Riches Boxing Tale

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP).—The fabulous rags to riches boxing tale of Yoshiro Shirai came to light today, a few hours after he won the flyweight championship of the world.

Shirai, who captured the crown in Tokyo Monday from Dado Marino of Hawaii, is the first Japanese to win a world title.

Dr. Alvin Cahn of Chicago, Shirai's manager, knew at first sight when he saw Shirai working out in a Tokyo gym that he was potentially a future champion. He was boxing to support his family of nine, made destitute by wartime bombings.

The National Boxing Association told today how Dr. Cahn, a botanist working with the United States army in Japan, wrote a lengthy letter to the association here asking for guidance on Shirai's future. His protege was not world famous then.

TWIST OF FATE

In his letter Cahn frankly told the commission, "I am not a fight manager by profession but by a freak twist of fate. It is a crazy situation, but there it is.

"I stumbled into a Japanese gym in which many boxers were training. In this gym I found a boy who was trying to box instead of slug; he had a good defense and good footwork . . .

"When I took him over he was underfed, undernourished, almost without clothes. He was fighting seven to eight times a week to feed and support his parents, brothers and sisters, all nine of them living in two crowded rooms in a tenement.

"He took to my coaching like a duck to water—despite the fact that at the time we had not a single word in common (he now speaks English)—and absorbed everything I gave him 'on sight.'

"Within 11 months he won both the national flyweight and bantamweight championships of Japan, knocking out both champions who were considered invincible."

REVOLUTIONIZED BOXING

Dr. Cahn told the N.B.A. Shirai has revolutionized boxing in Japan and has forced the abandonment of antiquated slugging for modern boxing techniques.

His letter than asked:

"Where do I go from here? I need advice and have no one to turn to. May I ask you—formally or informally, as you wish—to advise me?"

Then came the developments that led to Shirai's lifting the crown from Marino. The N.B.A., for the first time in its history, started rating Shirai as a contender, merely on the basis of the manager's glowing reports.

It even wrote Sab Ichinose, Marino's manager, urging him to defend his title with Shirai. It wrote the commissions affiliated with the N.B.A. advising of Shirai's availability for matchmaking.

Now Shirai has risen from the bottom of the pile.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

When shooting with wood clubs position the ball forward of a centre line between the player's heels. The reason is that with long shafted woods the best flight is obtained when contact with the ball comes just after the clubhead has reached the low point in the arc of the swing and is starting to rise. Notice that straight left arm. Good! By swinging your hands down, your clubhead will pass slightly inside out, across the dotted direction line at impact. Your pivot supplies the out-and-around action. A golf ball hit in this way—slightly inside-out—is on its way for a long, arrowy flight with just a faint hook at the far end. The over-spin that this slight hook produces will give you five or ten extra yards on the roll. And discombobolate competition.

Adams Sets Riding Record— Pilots Five Winners Again

CHICAGO, May 20 (AP).—Jockey Johnny Adams, who rode five successive winners last Saturday at Lincoln Fields, today duplicated this feat to give him a remarkable record of 12 victories in 13 races within three days. The Lincoln Fields 30-day meeting is being run at Hawthorne.

The 37-year-old jockey, three times U.S. champion, ran his string of seven victories in a row Monday before finishing fifth on his third and last mount of the afternoon. Today he started by scoring in both ends of the $27.80 daily double, sat out the third race, won the fourth, rested in the jockey's room during the fifth, then took the day's feature—the $4,500 Dollar purse with B. M. Landry's Asphalt.

Adam's fifth winner of the afternoon was Flying Bold, also from Landy's string, in the seventh race. That was Johnny's 17th victory in 42 mounts since the meeting opened a week ago Monday. His streak, however, was stopped in the last race of the day, with Adam's mount, [illegible]

Nevo
Fast and continued relief from the agonies of sinusitus

NEVO — another new product of modern research . . . an easy, reliable way to rapid and continued relief of Sinusitus.

During more than two years of practical testing, NEVO has not once failed to bring rapid and lasting relief to victims of Sinusitus — even in cases of more than ten years duration.

Many test subjects were chosen for the severity of their conditions — chronic cases of many years duration, cases which had recourse to surgical drainage without lasting improvement. Yet, in every case, Nevo has been successful in providing complete relief in less than five days.

In over two years of research and testing not one of the test subjects has experienced a recurrence of their sinus "attacks" and accompanying agony.

NEVO contains no harmful drugs — is safe even for people of delicate health. NEVO is not an opiate or pain killer, but NATURAL REMEDY for Sinus infections.

Food Ship Sails Past Blockade

TEL AVIV, May 20 (AP).—A shipload of food for Israel reached Tel Aviv Monday after passing unmolested through the Egyptian blockade. Observers said it is still too early to determine whether the ship's arrival indicates the Egyptians have lifted the blockade they have maintained since the Palestine war against Israel-bound cargoes at the Mediterranean end of the Suez Canal.

Foreshore Lease Rights To Be Studied

Whether the provincial government has rights to grant a foreshore lease on Gorge waters will be studied by the Saanich municipal solicitor.

The move came Monday night when Reeve Joseph Casey questioned the right after noting that the municipal boundary extends down the middle of the waters. He claimed that the waters involved are not navigable.

Property involved is that sought by R. A. Wood, of Gorge Boat House. He intends to improve float facilities there. He also claims he requires the lease in order to be able to cast off without legal entanglements, a barge now tied to the floats.

The barge has been fitted as living quarters.

A copy of form of lease was received by council Monday, also, after a protest to the lands and forests department over previous failure to release the article.

Mr. Wood had previously told council he had not been able to obtain a copy of the proposed lease for study.

Lions To Register At Empress Today

Registration of delegates to the Lions district convention will start at noon today at the Empress Hotel. About 1,300 representatives from Lions Clubs throughout the Pacific Northwest are expected.

"Everything is ready for the opening of business sessions Thursday morning," reports Sam Taylor, general chairman of the convention committee. He is being assisted by Arthur Quail, president-elect of the Victoria service club.

In addition to business sessions, delegates will also attend special breakfasts and luncheons. Social arrangements have been made for delegates' wives.

Mount Tolmie Park To Be Cleaned Up

Expenditure of $600 for clean-up and improvement of the public park atop Mount Tolmie was among the items approved by the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks committee yesterday.

On a motion from Clr. Grace Shaw of Saanich, the committee raised the Mount Tolmie estimate from $100 to $600.

Mrs. Shaw said the site was one of the best scenic observation points in Victoria and should be maintained as "something we can be proud of."

"All you can see now are broken beer bottles," she said.

The committee approved, after certain adjustments, the $10,250 budget, which included $3,825 for improvement and maintenance of Beaver Lake Park.

Estimates for Gorge Park were reduced from $1,250 to $700.

BANDS PLAY ON

The committee did not go along with Mrs. Shaw's belief, however, that juke-box music at Beaver Lake necessarily spoiled picnickers' enjoyment of nature.

Her motion to eliminate the loudspeaker hookup to the record-player was defeated 5-2.

Diversion of run-off waters through Mount Douglas Park will be tried in order to prevent caving-in of the cliff fronting the beach.

The experimental measure was approved after Saanich public works superintendent Henry Blakeney estimated the cost of a beach retaining wall would be $13,000.

LOGGING REFUSED

The committee turned down a request by J. R. Gillespie to log an area adjacent to Beaver Lake and one from the Vancouver Island Outboard Association to hold a regatta on the east side of Elk Lake.

The city will be asked to turn over $600, received from the B.C. Telephone Co. as annual rent for line rights in city-owned Mount Douglas Park, for improvements to the park.

Reeve Joseph Casey said that according to provincial legislation granting the city authority to rent the property to the telephone company, the money must be used for improvements to the park and not as ordinary city revenue.

The $600 from the 1951 rent, together with the same amount this year, will be put into a special fund.

On the Centigrade thermometer freezing point is at zero, compared with 32 degrees on the Fahrenheit scale.

B.C. People Aware Of Value of Tourists

British Columbians are well aware of the value of the tourist industry, E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, said yesterday.

"British Columbia's $65,000,000 annual tourist trade has been largely built upon truthful promotion of her outstanding attractions, good accommodation and the native hospitality and courtesy of our people," he said.

Mr. Rowebottom issued a message yesterday in support of Tourist Service Week, which will be recognized across Canada May 25 to May 31.

He hoped the week in B.C. will encourage people of the province to see more of their own surroundings, he said.

Sailing Couple Due in Port From Australia

Four and a half years ago H. Mewton Scott and his wife left Sydney, Australia, in their small sailing craft.

They set out to "just cruise about the Pacific." And that's just what they have been doing.

One of their longest single voyages is now under way. The adventure-seeking couple are on their way to Victoria.

A hasty note, written on a post card and mailed by Mr. Scott from Kanail Island, in the Hawaiian group, informed the Royal Victoria Yacht Club that he and his wife expect to reach this city "between June 10 and 15." The card bore a May 13 date mark. Their small sailing vessel is named New Silver Gull.

A recent survey by an independent research panel showed that more people than ever before prefer B-A. The rise and fall in gasoline preference by Canadians, between 1949 and 1951, is shown on the chart. B-A leads all other oil companies for increased preference and popularity.

New survey proves B-A

gasoline is

TOP-RATED

Approval by the motoring public is what really counts in determining value of gasoline. Scientists and technicians can and do make the most careful laboratory tests . . . but the product has to stand up to the endless variety of conditions placed on it by regular users. And that's what happened with B-A 88 and 98 gasolines. After two years of use by all kinds of drivers, in all makes of cars, under all kinds of conditions—an independent survey showed a soaring gain in preference for B-A gasolines. B-A is rated tops by more people than ever before! And if you haven't tried it lately try a tankful and we think you'll discover why B-A is Top Rated by so many people. We know you'll find the answer is sheer value!

Empress Staff To Vote

Approximately 350 Empress Hotel employees will take a strike vote tomorrow.

No date has been set for strike action if the vote is in favor of it, said Robert [illegible] representative of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, CCL.

Voting will be from 9 a.m. to noon and 3 to 6 p.m., he said.

Employees rejected a conciliation board recommendation of a 5-per-cent wage increase and other suggestions for a new contract. They seek a 20-cent-an-hour wage increase and 40-hour week.

Strike action would join with any taken at the Hotel Vancouver on the Mainland, it was reported.

Bricklayers Refusing To Take Jobs At Less Than $2.25 Hourly Wage

ON THE LABOR FRONT

BY BILL MAVOR

Work stoppages are occurring among bricklayers in Greater Victoria to back a demand for $2.25 an hour.

"Where work is offered, men are not accepting unless the rate asked is received," said T. [illegible] 65-member Bricklayers' Union, Local 2 (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

He said, however, that it had been reported to him that at least one worker had received $2.25 an hour.

Contractors said yesterday through Victoria Builders' Exchange that they would not pay the rate, standing by an offer of 15 cents an hour over the present $1.83.

The union claims that its members in most cases cannot be and are not certified under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act as they are employed singly. The act provides for certification of a bargaining unit only where two or more employees are involved.

The union met recently and set its wage rate. Mr. Gooderham has pointed out that other Vancouver Island and Vancouver city bricklayers received $2.10 an hour last year.

* * *

George Kaiser, employers' nominee to a conciliation board with the Painters' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) says that the board chairman has been "irregular" in reaching a decision on wages.

In a minority report, Mr. Kaiser says majority agreement was reached on a short-term agreement for wages on the basis of a 16½-cents-an-hour increase, to $1.73½ cents.

He was called to read the report of chairman Philip Fleming showing wages of $1.84 an hour. "I fail to understand the inconsistency of the chairman in a drastic change from $1.73½ to $1.84." The move was irregular, he said, as it was not reached at a meeting of a regularly constituted conciliation board at which he was present.

The union, meanwhile, has accepted the majority report signed by Mr. Fleming and their nominee, T. Gooderham.

Increases of 30 cents an hour are recommended to place hourly rates at $1.87 for brush work and $1.97 for spray work. The union has also accepted a recommendation for double time for the first three days' work on shifts starting after 1.30 a.m., and time and one-half after the third day.

A full traveling allowance is recommended for Saturday and Sunday.

An out-of-town guarantee recommended and accepted by the union is for $60 a month for room and board and any additional reasonable living expense to be paid by the employer on receiving receipts for bills paid.

The contractors meet next Monday to consider the report.

Between May 5 and 10, the Labor Relations Board issued nine certificates of bargaining authority.

In Victoria, the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America, Local 1163 (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) was certified for brush and spray painters, paperhangers and decorators employed by Old Country Decorators at Victoria. The Automotive Maintenance Workers' Federal Union, Local 151 (T.L.C.) was certified for employees of Victoria Tire Ltd., except office staff and salesmen.

In Courtenay, the International Woodworkers of America, Local 1-363 (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) was certified for sawmill employees of Field Sawmill, on Dyke Road.

Victoria Labor Council (C.C.L.) meets tonight at Johnson Street headquarters.

Federation of Telephone Workers, constituting 4,000 B.C. Telephone Co. employees, has applied for a conciliation board in negotiations for a new contract, according to Canadian Press.

J. G. Ripstra, of Wichita, Kansas, has about three times as many master points as are necessary to qualify him as a Life Master. This hand, one of his favorites, illustrates the kind of technique that won him so many tournament points, although this was a rubber bridge deal where the points accrued to his bank book rather than to his tournament record.

West opened the nine of hearts, covered by dummy's jack and East's queen. South trumped and led three rounds of trumps made necessary by the fact that West had only one and East three. Now, if you still have your fingers over those East-West cards, you can join Life Master Ripstra in the careful little play that will assure your slam. See it?

You lead a low diamond from your hand toward dummy, and when West plays low you put in the nine. It doesn't matter if East can win the trick because then the remainder of the diamonds are sure to fall under your ace-king-queen. The only distribution that can beat you, of course, is five diamonds in one hand. If you lead a high one from your hand first or even if you lead a low one from dummy first as the cards lie you must lose two diamond tricks. But by making your first lead a low one from your hand you can be sure of losing not more than one diamond no matter which opponent turns out to hold five against you.

Credit Bodies Pick Victoria For Convention

News reached Victoria yesterday that the 32nd annual conference of the 10th division of the National Retail Credit Association (Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Pacific Northwest and the Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs, P.N.W.) will be held in Victoria in May, 1953.

It is the first time Victoria has been chosen for this conference.

Attending the present conference at Tacoma are the following Victorians: Geoffrey Ellis, Charlton Smith, Miss Florence MacDougall and Mrs. A. Mead of the Victoria Credit Bureau, and J. W. Gillis and J. Henderson, directors of Victoria Retail Credit Grantors' Association.

Final Arguments Still To Be Heard

No date has been set in Supreme Court for concluding arguments in the suit launched by a Cobble Hill logging operator for $28,729 damages, for losses allegedly caused by a fire near Chemainus 10 years ago.

The action was brought by George Lock against the Edward L. Robson Logging Company and E. L. Robson, president.

Counsel for the parties in the case have yet to present their final arguments to Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

Island Festivals Expected To Lure Victorians Away

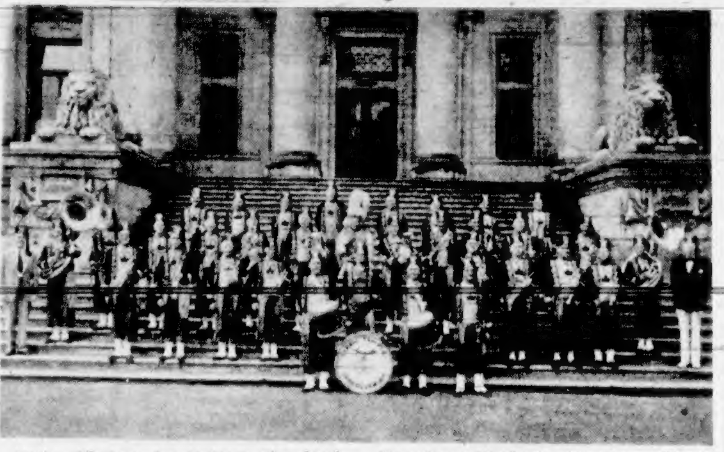
Victoria is likely to be a pretty lonely place May 24.

With special celebrations to be held at half a dozen points on the Island, and Victoria due to observe the strict letter of the royal mourning period, an exodus seems certain.

Most ambitious get-out-of-town project was building up around the special Elks-sponsored train to the Port Alberni celebrations and the scheduled departure of half a dozen entertainment units for the same show.

Included on the list were the Eagles' Band and Drill Team and the Chinese Girls' Drill Team.

Shrine Band Going to Convention



Entire 35-piece band from the local Gizeh Temple will leave tonight for Billings, Mont., to attend the International Northwest Shrine convention. The convention will continue until Sunday. Traveling with the band is George Ford, B.C. representative to the Imperial Potentate. The band is led by Jimmy Miller and managed by past potentate Harry Rawlings.

Strike Committees Ordered By I.W.A. as Standby Measure

The International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) has notified all Coast locals to organize strike committees.

The order is a standby measure, according to Jack MacKenzie, president of Victoria Local 1-118.

Action regarding a strike will depend on outcome of the conciliation board recommendations, he said.

The union has nominated its member to a board. His name will be released after the Labor Relations Board has been notified.

The union, representing about 32,000 Coast lumber workers, is asking a 35-cents-an-hour wage increase. Present wage is $1.29½ plus 14 cents an hour cost-of-living bonus.

CUT PROPOSED

Operators have proposed a general wage cut in the industry, except for some logging classifications.

The union also seeks paid statutory holidays, a health and welfare scheme and other concessions.

At Portland, Ore., Columbia River district woodworkers, on strike for three weeks for an improved contract, began returning to logging camps and mills yesterday.

The Columbia basin loggers and sawmills organization, which withdrew from the Lumbermen's Industrial Relations Committee nounced the settlement affecting some 5,000 workers on the lower river.

The new agreement provides for a 7½ cents an hour wage increase, a two-cent increase in night differentials, three additional paid holidays and an improved vacation program.

Workers will continue to finance a health and welfare program, but with some changes in payroll deduction. The union had demanded that employers pay for the health and welfare program.

Oregon coast operators and the union will meet today.

Harmony Hints Given By Chinese Editor

A few pointers on how to live peacefully with your in-laws were given by Kien Yer Wy, editor of The New Republic, speaking to Central Junior High School P.T.A. last night.

"In China, even four generations can live happily under one roof," he said.

Key to quiet family life in China is the Confucian outlook of moderation and morality, he said, and he quoted Confucian poetry in Chinese to his fascinated audience.

Mr. Kien spoke fluently, although he apologized "for my poor English." He said he spoke English with a Spanish accent, having lived in South America for five years before coming to Victoria.

STUDENTS' PROBLEMS

He described for parents and teachers some of the problems that confront students in China.

"We have no alphabet in Chinese," he said. "Each character is a whole world. Before our young students can write a good essay they must memorize about 7,000 words."

He said he had to study eight hours a day when he was eight years old.

Describing typical Chinese life, he said family discipline makes for smoother and closer ties among relatives.

May 23 Ceremony Takes Final Form

Final preparations are being made for the observance of the 31th annual Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire special Empire Day celebration at the Legislative Buildings grounds.

The 45-minute service will start at 10.30 a.m. Friday, May 23.

Sentries from Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Sea Cadets and Air Cadets will attend the ceremony, with children from schools in the area to assemble and sing hymns and patriotic songs.
